PHYSICAL SECURITY SERVICES

How do we keep our employees safe, and just as importantly, feeling safe at work?

Most employers strive to provide a safe and productive workplace for their employees, but how do you know if your organisation is doing enough to keep staff safe? And where do you start once you decide to review security protocols and practices?

Our team of security professionals work with internal stakeholders to:

1. Identify the current security states of buildings and surrounds
2. Identify the risks and adversaries affecting these areas
3. Formulate recommendations to mitigate risks

Our Strategic Approach

We believe that security should be designed to enhance work and life experiences rather than act as a constraint.

We utilize analysis tools relied upon by the military, governments and large corporations to protect their critical infrastructure, assets and personnel. We customize and scale the application of these tools based on our client's needs to ensure that the scope of our work and the outcomes are appropriate and relevant for their needs.

Our Services

Our team members have conducted numerous security consulting projects, including:

- Threat and Vulnerability Assessment of critical government infrastructure, corporate offices, related facilities and personnel.
- Audits of security recommendation implementation made by other consultants.

- Key and Access Control for facilities.
- General security for central high-rise office complexes including the security of personnel.
- Security for private corporations and their personnel who are at high risk of violence, theft, and surveillance by crime groups.
- Loss prevention strategies for retail environments with ongoing security incidents.
- Violence Prevention Protocol Development for supporting consistent and defensible decision making and documentation of all unwanted incidents of behaviour
- Reviews of Standard Operating Procedures.
